(C)hanukah Greetings!

Traveler in Israel

IT SEEMS TO ME that going to Israel for the first time is like falling in love for the first time. No matter how many times you do it, the first time is always special.

My "first time" began the day after Yom Kippur, and ended a very short six days later. Many times during the trip, I found myself thinking "wait until I tell them about that next Friday night!" And yet, I'm finding it very difficult to write about it.

There is so much that is good there, so much to be proud of. But there are also things that are troubling to those of us who care very deeply about the safety of Israel, and about the quality of life of her people.

What follows is not a thoughtful, detailed analysis, but a series of impressions. For the former, I'd suggest you read the articles by Jacobo Timmerman which appeared recently in the New Yorker in October, and also in the New York Times Magazine on November 7.

It was clear from the start that this was to be a working tour, not a fun-filled excursion. After 19 hours on the plane and an emotion filled trip by bus from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem, we arrived with merely half an hour to relax before we had our first seminar! And it was like that all the way. We made the circle from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem to Kiryat Shimona to Haifa to Tel Aviv in six days, with lots of history and politics and religion and archaeology thrown in at every stop.

Most of the group had been to Israel many times before; several had family members there. So we were certain to meet with people who really knew what was going on, and people with widely differing opinions about what it all meant. We spent time with cabinet officials, university chancellors and professors, specialists in intelligence and in the Holocaust, grass roots community leaders and Americans who had made Aliya.

DEAR FRIENDS: HAPPY CHANUKAH! I am glad to make a contribution to the time-honored Jewish tradition of debate over the spelling of this holiday. The Gaily Forward has lifted its editorial policy of "consistency in spelling" in honor of the occasion. Needless to say, I am committed to "Chanukah" with a "CH," as I learned to spell it in Brooklyn, New York. This is clearly the "correct" version because in Brooklyn they know about such things. That our Congregation is, indeed, a melting pot, is attested to by the many "incorrect" versions of Chanukah which appear in the Forward.

But no matter how you spell Chanukah, I want to take this opportunity to extend a warm invitation to our annual Hanukah Latke Party and Art Raffle. Our latkes are the best in town and the company in which we will eat, play dreidel (B.Y.O.D.) and otherwise amuse ourselves, is equally good. That night we will also draw the names of the Art Raffle prizewinners. Publishers' Clearinghouse we're not, but we do have beautiful, valuable prizes of artistic merit as you can see in the announcement flyer. Please sell Raffle tickets! When you sell the books you were originally given, get some more, and sell those. And for those who have sold the most tickets, as well as for those who bought the most tickets, we will have amusing gifts... and I do mean amusing!

Remember that this is a fun-raising event as well as fund-raising. Invite your friends and attend the party on December 17 at 8:15 p.m. at the Jewish Community Center. Everyone who wants to have some fun is welcome. Please consider this your personal invitation. I really do look forward to seeing you and your friends on the 17th.

We have terrific Chanukah gifts available for your friends and relatives with a sense of humor: our beautiful, custom silkscreened T-shirts, with witty inscriptions (e.g., mayven, mensch, Grandma's naches). They are top quality gifts you will be proud to give. The inscriptions will make your gift the talk of the season. Please use the enclosed order form to buy them now.

I want to bring everyone up-to-date on the Congregation's leadership Advance ("Retreat" is not what we're about!). Our 12-hour session took place Saturday, November 6 at New College. A wide range of issues were addressed by the Va'ad and Committee Chairs in attendance. Administrative and policy issues were addressed and specific matters are now being researched which will require input from the Congregation. I will keep you posted as the process evolves. In future columns I will be discussing in detail what the advance accomplished. All in all, it was a long, energizing day, and one which will strengthen the Congregation.

We all owe special thanks to Hal Wolf, a gifted and sensitive man who is a volunteer facilitator and leadership trainer for the Union of American Hebrew Congregations. Although we have now fulfilled the UAHC leadership program, we are looking forward to continuing our work with Hal on an informal basis.

Thanks also to Rob Tat who coordinated the event beautifully and facilitated the afternoon sessions, and to Mark Feldman, who made available to us the facilities at New College.

Again, Happy Chanukah! See you on the 17th!

From strength to strength

—Cheryl

Update on Ethiopian Jews

No Ethiopian Jews have been rescued from the refugee camps in the Sudan since April. The death rate among children in the camps is approximately one per week. The children die mainly from malnutrition and usually preventable diseases. The death rate among adults is a little lower. A more complete article will appear soon in the Forward.

"Push-A-Key" Fund

Donate a key for our new typewriter. Our "Push-a-Key" fund, at $10 per key, will enable Sha'ar Zahav to purchase our long-needed office machine. And that will help Susan (our secretary) become even more efficient (if that's possible).

If you would like to honor or memorialize someone with your donation, indicate to whom you would like the card to be sent. Send your donation to Congregation Sha'ar Zahav, PO Box 5640, San Francisco, CA 94010.

Look for the results of the donated keys in a future issue of the Forward.

Newsletter Advertising Deadline Changes

The advertising copy deadline for the Forward has been changed from the 15th of the month to the 10th, the same date as the deadline for newsletter copy. For further information, including production charges, call Larry Chandler at 621-6764.

Reminder to Non-Members

We love to send you our newsletter and keep you filled in on what's happening at Sha'ar Zahav. Please help us out with a donation so that we can keep sending the Forward to you more than three times. We need to hear from you with your donation before that time so we can keep you on our mailing list. If you're not a member of Sha'ar Zahav and have been receiving the Forward and wish to continue receiving it in 1983, please send us your donation to help defray costs before December 20, 1982.

Hanukah Art Raffle And Latke Party

Believe it or not, Hanukah is around the corner and it's once again time for the famous and fabulous Sha'ar Zahav Annual Latke Party to be held on Friday, December 17, at 8:15 p.m. at the JCC. Accompanying last month's Forward were raffle tickets for the drawing for prizes to be held at the party. Now is the time to return the stubs and tax-deductible donations and get some more ticket books to sell to your friends and family. The price is right ($1 per ticket or $5 per book of 6 tickets), and the prizes are great.

The Latke "Fry-Off" party will be the most fun so bring your friends (the more the merrier)! And if you are able to assist in preparing for the evening, or can lend the Congregation a food processor, please call Ron Lezell at 621-3930.

"A Certain Bond"

The Forum presentation on December 3 will be a film on Project Renewal in Israel. The film, A Certain Bond describes the partnership between the Jewish community of the Bay Area and two new immigrant communities and towns in Israel, Kiryat Shimona and Tel Hanon. Ron Lezell will show the film and discuss the project.

Reminder to Members

Copies of the Congregation's By-Laws may be obtained by calling or writing the Synagogue office. In addition, minutes of Va'ad meetings are available simply by requesting one and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the office at PO Box 5640, SF 94101.

Hanukah Visits

Jewish residents of nursing homes are in need of visits and cheer particularly at this time of year when there are so many programs set up for this Christian neighbors.

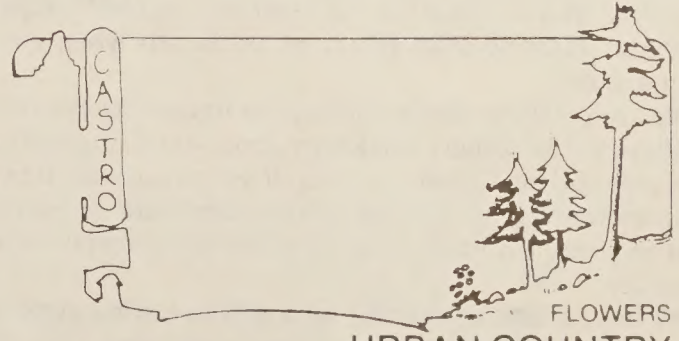

In the ongoing tradition of bringing some "yiddishkeit" and warmth to these patients, the Bikur Cholim is organizing visits to Pine Towers, Broderick and Mission Villa nursing homes. Since we are all in essence members of the "chicken soup outreach" please join in these visits. We'll be bringing some Hanukah treats, lighting candles with the residents and participating in a brief program, including singing by the Women's Havurah Chorus.

This event will take place on Sunday, December 12 from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and will give members plenty of time to attend the blood drive held between 4 and 6 p.m. as well as the Women's Havurah Hanukah candle-lighting and wine tasting at 7 p.m. Reserve the 12th—it's "mitzvah Sunday." For details, call Norm Burns at 346-5691.

JCC in December

A Money Matters Workshop with Roger Pritchard will be held the first two Wednesdays at 7:30 at the Jewish Community Center. On December 1, the topic will be "Cutting Back and Living Better, and on December 8, "Investing with Little Money" will be discussed. Fee is $5 for members, and $7 for non-members of the JCC. For more information, phone 346-6040.

News From The Committees

Women's Havurah

SEVERAL NEW AND EXCITING Projects are in the works for the Women's Havurah. On December 12, at 7 p.m., we will be holding a Hanukah Candle Lighting/Wine Tasting at the Nob Hill Inn. This beautiful old Inn (which used to be Sally Stanford's place!) will be a lovely setting for this gala event. We would like to have as many menorahs as possible. Please bring your own menorah and candles if possible. We look forward to seeing you there.

A Women's Chorus, expertly conducted by Talia Shafir, meets to rehearse weekly. Our first performance will be during services on December 17th, the night of the Latke Party and Raffle drawing. Any woman who can carry a tune is welcome and all the rest Talia teaches. Call the Synagogue office for dates and times of rehearsals.

We are designing an outreach program to encourage women in the Bay Area to join Sha'ar Zahav and strengthen our presence in the Congregation. More information on this will appear soon.

Bikur Cholim

Presently the Bikur Cholim is concentrating on these two items. First, the development of a telephone "hot-line" to deal with referrals. We still need more volunteers to work on the hot-line. It requires only your willingness to check in with a central phone number once a day for a week and to reply to callers with information provided in a resource directory. Please call Glenn Friedman, 239-1468 if you can assist in this project.

The Bikur Cholim will also be developing a plan to implement blood bank credits.

The next meeting of the Bikur Cholim will take place at the home of Betty Kalis, 945 Elizabeth on Tuesday, January 18 at 7:30 p.m., 221-2265.

Public Relations Committee

Our committee has been busy creating new advertisements for Sha'ar Zahav in the local gay and lesbian press. Please let us know what you think of the ads when you see them around.

We are creating media releases for upcoming events and holidays so that others will know about our Congregation's activities and participate in them. If you are involved in creating an activity, we ask that you contact Mark or Sharyn at least two months in advance to allow for maximum media exposure.

We have a new shutterbug who will be taking pictures at Sha'ar Zahav events (with the subject's approval, of course).

Come and join our little band of media mavens! Contact Sharyn or Mark through the office today.

Membership Committee

The new members' tea was held on Saturday, October 30 at the home of Sha'ar Zahav Treasurer Allan Gold and past president Paul Cohen. Committee chairs and Va'ad members met and socialized with the new members.

Seven new members were voted into the general membership of Sha'ar Zahav at the Va'ad meeting of November 8. This brings our membership totals for 1982-83 to 164. Welcome to our family!

The next meeting of the membership committee will take place at the home of Eric Keitel on Tuesday evening, December 14. All those interested are welcome. Contact Eric at 391-2093 for the address.

Social Program Committee

Recent activities of the Social Program Committee include attending theater events, Marine World, playing softball and bowling. The committee's purpose is not fund-raising; rather, while covering expenses, the committee arranges intreresting and diverse activities where members and friends can socialize together outside of Services. We are eager for new committee members and ideas such as the formation of new Havurot (chess, opera, theater, cooking, symphony, etc.) Please call the committee's chair, Ron Lezell, 621-3930, with ideas and/or the time and location of the next meeting.

Classes in Reading Hebrew

The Ritual Committee is pleased to sponsor classes in reading Hebrew, taught by Dubi Barcan. Classes will be free to members, with a nominal fee for non-members.

The first meeting will be held on Wednesday, December 15, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Daniel Chesir, 631 O'Farrell in San Francisco. At that meeting, Dubi and participants will decide how often, where, and at what times to meet in the future.

If you are interested, please call the Synagogue office at 921-7612.

Building Fund Pledges

The second annual installment of our building fund pledges are now payable. You may obtain your balance due by phoning Ron Wolberg, Building Committee Financial Secretary at 933-1278. Please send your contribution to Congregation Sha'ar Zahav, PO Box 5640, San Francisco, CA 94101 by December 31, 1982 in order to obtain your tax deduction for this year.

Participate in Shabbat Services

If you are interested in leading or contributing to Friday evening or holiday services, please contact the Synagogue office at 921-7612.

Services are held each Friday night at 8:15 at the Jewish Community Center, 3200 California (at Presidio) in San Francisco.

Health Talks Set

Health issues of particular interest to lesbians and gay men will be discussed during the Friday Evening Forums in December and January.

Dr. Dennis McShane, member of the faculty of Stanford University Medical School and President of the American Association of Physicians for Human Rights, will discuss Kaposi's Sarcoma, AIDS, and the new hepatitis vaccine on Friday evening, December 10, after services.

"Wellness for Women" will be the subject of a Forum in January. Check next month's Forward for details.

Blood Drive

Our next blood drive will be held on Sunday, December 12. A bloodmobile, sponsored by the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, will be at the Jewish Community Center from 4 to 6 p.m. Members of the Bikur Cholim will be in attendance, and you are sure to meet other members of Sha'ar Zahav there as well.

We very much need to replenish blood "credits" at the bank so that we have a supply of blood at all times to offer members in case of emergency.

The donation takes only a few minutes and refreshments will be served. Why not make an outing of it and come to donate with some of your friends from the Congregation? This gift of life is particularly crucial around holiday times. For more information, contact Glenn Friedman, 239-1468.

Forward Staff Resigning

Yes, the staff of the Forward is resigning itself to the fact that yet again we have no artist to help put out the issue. If anyone is out there, give a call. Larry Chandler, 621-6764.

Coalition for Human Rights

CONGREGATION SHA'AR ZAHAV is a founding member of the Coalition for Human Rights, an umbrella coalition of approximately 50 Bay Area non-for-profit organizations. CHR was organized when the Reverend Zone of the Monterey Bay Area threatened to bring a new right anti-lesbian/gay campaign to San Francisco.

The purpose of the coalition is to 1) create a forum for communication and coordination among a widespread network of Bay Area lesbian and gay organizations; 2) offer an 'in-place' and functioning forum in case of anti-gay attacks (and that includes everything from anti-gay violence on Polk or Castro Streets to the excesses of government); 3) offer workshops, conferences and other programs on a variety of issues of the lesbian, gay and general communities; 4) encourage outreach to those who share common goals to work with us.

Members of Sha'ar Zahav have been actively involved with the coalition, including Carole Migden (former Chair), Cheryl Orvis, and Mark Feldman (current treasurer). Coalition meetings are held the third Wednesday of every month at 5:30 p.m. at New College of California, 777 Valencia at 19th Street. All are invited to attend.

In subsequent columns we will let you know about the specific accomplishments and concerns of the coalition.

Magnes Museum

Beth Ames Swartz: Israel Revisited, an exhibition of abstract sculptural paintings incorporating the elements of earth, fire, air, and water on layered paper is now showing at the Magnes Museum and runs through January 23. Inspired by the Kabbalistic, or Jewish mystical, tradition, the works are a tribute to Biblical and historic Jewish women important to the artist's identity. Beth Ames Swartz has been cited by Newsweek as one of Georgia O'Keeffe's "most accomplished successors."

WHAT'S A SMART PERSON LIKE YOU DOING IN A CRAZY ECONOMY LIKE THIS?

Looking for help, probably.

And that's why you should look into something new like John Hancock's Variable Life Insurance. Because it could do more for you than the plan you now have. On one hand, it guarantees the face amount of your plan like any life policy. But on the other hand, it puts your money to work in investments giving you the opportunity to increase the value and help keep up with inflation.

Call Marilyn Miller, 861-0880 for more information.

It could turn out to be one of the smartest things you'll do in this crazy economy.

We met people who referred to Prime Minister Begin as Melech Ha Olam (King of the World) and people who prayed daily that he would resign. Sometimes both of those were in the same family!

It was a moving experience to pray at the Western Wall on Shabbat—and with a Sha'ar Zahav prayerbook yet. But far more stirring to me was a visit to a training program for the mentally retarded, with as skilled and as sensitive staff as I've seen anywhere. With all the problems Israel has, they have not even forgotten these! Somehow they've found a way to let the handicapped become a productive part of the society.

I had dinner with a family of Moroccan Jews, who a generation ago were living in abject poverty in the Atlas Mountains. Now the wife is an elementary school teacher, and the husband a community planner. Their children are growing up bright and healthy. They are also a lot happier now that the Katushas no longer fall on Kiryat Shimona. Any Israeli government that gives back that part of the Golan from which the shells came should have its collective head examined.

Is Israel a completely open society? I guess you can't really say that, since there is some censorship of the press when military matters are at issue; and a controversial play can be closed if it offends some higher-up. But when I was there, the Newsweek issue that covered the Beirut massacre was for sale everywhere and the Jerusalem Post had a front page editorial calling for the resignation of the government. In addition, we had no trouble whatsoever meeting with Palestinian Arabs who opposed Begin and supported the P.L.O.

On the other hand, when security is at stake, they don't mess around. I was in the country less than five minutes before I was detained by security. When the plane landed, I had walked out on the ramp with my trusty Brownie movie camera and took a shot of the entire airport, including a few soldiers who were standing around. As soon as I walked off the ramp, a pleasant but firm civilian security guard asked me to stand aside from our group. Three of them surrounded me and began asking questions about the reason for my visit and where I was from. I managed to convince them I was okay, though I did notice that not a single person who was dressed like a Chasid was checked.

The Chasidim, incidentally, are a feisty group. It was fun watching the test of wills between the cabin attendants and the Chasidim as we approached Orly airport in Paris. The attendants wanted them to sit down and the Chasidim were determined to finish davening the morning service, Paris or no Paris.

There is opposition to the war in Beirut on the part of many Israelis, and pain and sadness about the deaths in the refugee camps. But almost everyone agreed that the P.L.O. had to be pushed out of the border areas, where they were systematically shelling Israeli towns and villages. And everyone felt the world response to the Beirut massacre was the grossest hypocrisy. They felt the same about the Pope's audience with Arafat.

It's been said that there is a seige mentality in Israel, that they feel themselves to be friendless and isolated in the world. It is easy to understand why.

—Mike Rankin

Va'ad Report

MEETING FOR THE FIRST TIME in its new location at New College on Valencia, the Va'ad's November 8 meeting featured reports on a wide array of new and exciting projects.

Coordinator Bruce Katz indicated that plans are being developed to see that Sha'ar Zahav will be represented at all major gay community functions by a rotating group of several volunteers.

Mark Feldman announced that the Public Relations Committee is fortunate to have an official synagogue photographer, Yo Schneeman.

The Women's Havurah plans to examine the status of women's involvement in congregational life and create avenues for strengthening that involvement. The newly-formed Women's Chorus is scheduled to make its debut at the Hanukah Party on December 17.

A "Push-a-Key" campaign has been established by the Finance Committee to raise funds for the purchase of a typewriter for the office. A contribution of $10 will purchase a single key.

Items which received Va'ad action included:

- The unanimous approval of a motion to reactivate the Building Search Committee to investigate alternatives to the Bush Street site while negotiations continue on that location.

- The acceptance of a proposal to create a standing volunteer corps to provide assistance to the committees.

- Agreement to provide a preliminary report at the November Congregational meeting of the UAHC's suggested procedures for the creation of a rabbinic search committee.

Va'ad meetings are held on the second Monday of the month from 6 to 9 p.m. at New College, 777 Valencia. All members of the Congregation are urged to attend.

Our Concern Is Appreciated

The following letter was received by the Congregation. It is from Brian Lurie, Executive Director of the Jewish Community Federation of San Francisco, Marin County and the Peninsula.

Dear Members of Congregation Sha'ar Zahav:

Thank you for your "Lebanese Relief" check, which will help the Israeli government to provide immediate medical help, clothing and food to the war-ravaged Lebanese people.

You can be proud to know that there is an outpouring of Jewish concern and financial help, which is coordinated by the American Joint Distribution Committee.

We all feel heavy-hearted at the terrible, tragic loss of lives—Lebanese and Israeli. We know that Israel needs our support now, more than ever, as it seeks to provide its citizens with the long-awaited right to live without the constant threat of terrorist attacks.
